Jefferson Twp. Board To Decide Friday On Jointure

NEWFOUNDLAND — The results of a secret balloting in Jefferson Twp. on Friday will be used by the five-man school board to decide whether to affiliate with the North Pocono or Wayne County Jointure.

The board, headed by William Keheint, plans to use the wishes of the public as a guide in making a decision.

Jefferson Twp. is included in a Lackawanna County administrative unit along with other districts now forming the North Pocono Jointure. This jointure is making preliminary plans for construction of a new four-year high school and needs to know Jefferson's position in order to arrange room scheduling and financing.

Indicate Wayne However, some residents have indicated that they favor joining a Wayne County jointure including South Canaan, Lake Ariel, Hamlin and Newfoundland.

Jefferson is one of three small independent districts being moved into larger, more efficient jointures by the state.

Introduce Bill For Colleges

WASHINGTON (AP) — Twenty-two senators Tuesday introduced legislation to set up a 125-million-dollar revolving fund for loans to colleges for classrooms and laboratories.

A similar program was included in two housing bills passed by Congress last year but vetoed by President Eisenhower. It was omitted at his request from a third housing bill which he signed.

Sen. Joseph S. Clark (D-Pa.), chief sponsor of the measure, said the program would be identical with the college dormitory loan plan, which he called "an outstanding success."

The loans would be at about 3½ per cent interest, the same as for the dormitories. The President has asked that the dormitory loans be ended.

Clark said it was estimated that the number of students seeking to enter college in the next 10 years would double.

"This bill is one means of providing some help to our colleges and universities in their expansion efforts, and providing it quickly," the senator said.

RENAULT RUNS RINGS INSIDE OTHER CARS

The turning circle of cars is measured from a point on the outside of the right front bumper.

A Renault Dauphine, for example, turns in a circle whose diameter is 32 feet. (Renault 4CVs need only 30 feet. Little bugs!) It can do tight U-turns, escape from narrow driveways, slip through traffic, run rings inside other cars. We don't know of a car that handles easier. The engine in the rear takes the weight off the front; when parked, you turn the wheel with a finger. Natural power steering.

Your Renault Dealer will demonstrate. He may even mention other talents. Uncanny traction on ice and snow. Up to 40 miles to the gallon, regular gas. Things like that. Suggested retail prices are: Renault Dauphine $1645; Renault 4CV $1345

Are You Registered?

Voter registration books close on Monday, March 7, so time is starting to run out on Monroe Counties who want to vote in the April 26 primaries but are not now on the voting lists.

There are two big reasons for being registered this year.

One, of course, is the fact that Pennsylvanians will nominate candidates for state treasurer, auditor general, all our congressmen, all our assemblymen and half the state senators.

These are offices which have strong bearing on what our state government shall be.

The second reason is that Pennsylvania is now closely divided politically.

There are fewer than 70,000 registrations separating the Republicans and Democrats.

Consequently, every individual should consider it personally important to be registered, because issues may henceforth be determined in this Commonwealth by the swing of a few hundred votes one way or another.

If you're not now on the rolls, you'd better visit the Registration Commission in the Court House at your earliest convenience.

If you put it off, the March 7 deadline will roll around before you realize it and you're apt to find yourself ineligible to vote in the important primaries because you failed to register.

Opinions Of Other Editors

Billboard Battle Continues

Special interests and their lobbyists won a major battle, but the war still goes on to bring about reasonable billboard controls.

A new bill has been put forward in the General Assembly. It is a big question whether the legislation will qualify under the limited fiscal scope of the '60 session. It's an even bigger question that anything will be accomplished right away if the billboard regulation measure is put on the agenda.

But, at least, here is evidence that the war continues — keeping alive the hole that our new highways yet can be saved from the ugliness of billboard clutter and, along the way, Pennsylvania can get an additional $5 million to $10 million in federal highway aid the next five years.

In the last session the people of Pennsylvania were given a vivid example of what happens when a few lobbyists put the squeeze on a piece of legislation. With the outdoor advertising industry in especially bitter opposition, the bill followed a rocky road in the House, finally passed, got watered down in the Senate, was returned to the House and died there.

Two of our neighbors, Ohio and Maryland, are far ahead of us in attempts to set up billboard controls that meet federal standards. Pennsylvania is still at the starting gate.

Rep. A. M. Lee (R-Philadelphia), a co-sponsor of the 1960 bill, believes the federal aid tie-in brings it within the revenue and appropriations limits of the present session. Others argue that the bill, though it does have an indirect bearing on the fiscal fortunes of the state, is still not a clear-cut revenue-producing measure.

If the advisory committee decides against clearing the bill, then only the first half of next year will be left as a time of decision on this issue.

Under the federal program the states have until July 1, 1961, to qualify for the billboard ban bonus Uncle Sam has offered. Even though this sugar plum is not the central reason for granting the highways free of billboard clutter, the practical course is to push for the roadside controls while the federal aid is still open.

Whenever a billboard bill next comes up for action, the special interests will be out to scuttle it with the same lobbying vigor they displayed in 1959. If more Pennsylvanians will display equal vigor in a crusade to preserve the scenic roadside beauty that their state offers, their legislators will pay heed — and billboard control legislation will pass. —Harrisburg Patriot

The Pennsylvania Story

Veteran Publicist Wooed

By Mason Denison
Harrisburg — There is a rumble — although one not marked by definable overtones — that the political overlord of both parties in Pennsylvania have been quietly sounding out the possibility of luring retired publicist George N. Pennington back to the wars for the next gubernatorial campaign.

Mr. Pennington, for 20 years one of Pennsylvania's most volatile, successful and highly-paid political craftsmen, was the writing dynamo behind four Governors and scores of lesser lights who found in him the open sesame to political stature.

When he retired as publicity chief of the Democratic State Committee in 1956 after engineering a crushing defeat of James Henderson Duff's reelection for the U.S. Senate, he swore on his typewriter he was through with politics forever.

New a resident of Butler County, where he maintains an imposing country estate known as "Bonniecroft Farm," Mr.

Pennington is also prominent in coal mining circles where he is considered somewhat of an expert in the earthly rudiments of producing "black diamonds."

In this column's opinion Mr. Pennington meant it when he said farewell to the catch-as-catch-can intrigues of politics. It has been reported — without verification — that he is interested in expanding his holdings by acquiring a live-wire daily newspaper.

But a well-known Republican leader insists that when the fire bell sounds for the next gubernatorial race, Mr. Pennington will come charging out of retirement to devote his facile pen and electric energy to the election of a Republican.

Democrats who know of Mr. Pennington's behind-the-scenes assistance to Governor David L. Lawrence in the 1958 race, will scoff at Republican claims. Actually, according to those close to Mr. Pennington, he has developed a sharp allergy for politics quite at odds with the spectacular and bristling campaigns he master-minded for both Republicans and Democrats.

As a Republican publicist, he was allied with Governors

Arthur H. James, Edward Martin and Jim Duff. He also was public relations director of Joseph R. Grundy's powerful Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Association. Mr. Pennington provided much of the "literary meat" for Mr. Grundy's famous high tariff speeches.

In 1944, Republican National Chairman Herbert Brownell invited Mr. Pennington to head up the GOP publicity staff in Washington. Mr. Pennington declined, preferring to remain in Pennsylvania.

Curiously after helping steer Duff into the Governorship in 1946, he broke with "Big Red" over party policy and turned in his typewriter to enter the coal stripping business in Jefferson and Somerset counties. He became one of the most active and successful producers in Pennsylvania.

For all of eight years, Mr. Pennington stoutly turned his back on politics until 1954 when the late G. Mason O'Leary, president of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers' Assn., solicited his aid in lining up Maj. Gen. Daniel B. Strickler of Lancaster as the GOP gubernatorial candidate.

When the Republican high command later reneged on Gen. Strickler, long-time friend of Mr. Pennington, and chose instead former Lt. Gov. Lloyd H. Wood, the outraged publicist "blew his stack" and served notice on his Republican colleagues he intended to put them out of business.

Asst. Democratic boss, Joseph M. Barr, now Mayor of Pittsburgh, speedily invited Mr. Pennington into the Democratic camp, for a healthy price, estimated by some to have been $50,000 for three months work!

Mr. Pennington's whirlwind campaign for George M. Leader, little known York County chicken farmer, was a classic. His dander was up and he came out swinging. He is generally credited with having destroyed Lloyd Wood's ill-starred candidacy.

Now the rumors flare anew — George Pennington and his smoking typewriter are coming back. But don't make any bets on it. The writer still stands on his prediction that the Butler publicist-coal operator will not return to the political trenches — no matter how rich the prize.

What's Wrong With U.S.?

Norman Cousins, editor of the "Saturday Review," ran into a situation which is not altogether unusual in the peculiarities of television.

He was asked by Kenneth Tynan to participate on a program about the United States to be broadcast in England. Kenneth Tynan is a Britisher who acts as a dramatic critic for "The New Yorker," a weekly magazine.

Cousins spoke into tape at considerable length about the United States. He assumed that what he said would be broadcast in Great Britain.

He discovered that he was one of a multitude of spokesmen, including Alger Hiss, Dalton Trumbo, Robert M. Hutchins and about 20 other American patriots!

The program was released by Associated Television which is one of the British commercial television companies. Apparently Tynan was told to get Beatniks, non-conformists and to have a contentious, critical and unusual program. According to "Newsweek," which reported these things, Tynan explained:

"We simply introduced these people without taking sides. Our job was to provide them with a shopwindow."

But why provide these particular Americans with a shopwindow in England? Why this selection? I could have provided him with a better lot, including Gamble, Benedict, Dr. R. Bernard Finch, Frank Costello, Jimmy Hoffa. I quote from "Newsweek" and ask you if this is any kind of America you know?

"For example," poet Philip Lamanian stated the case for his own dope addiction; American Communist Arnold Johnson railed against "class distinction" in America; Norman Mailer criticized our society as "oppressive"; (Jules) Felber talked of "label-happy" U.S. thinking. "I said if we were faced with another Hitler today," Felber recalled last week, "we'd probably just explain him away as coming from a bad home."

Norman Cousins, who is a serious-minded Liberal and goes in for all kinds of international good-will, sent the following cablegram to the broadcasters in London expressing his anger:

"News reports your telecast about United States in which I participated indicate it was put together in the context of what's wrong with America. If such was actually the case, I vigorously protest misrepresentations made to me at time I did recording. I never agreed to appear on any program carrying any such designation or character."

"Nor was it made clear that my recording would be combined with those of others on single program. I now request right to organize a 90-minute program on subject what's right with America also featuring twenty prominent Americans, you to pay all expenses up to cost of previous program."

One much wanted tape very carefully. It is now used even for newspaper interviews, reporters no longer depending upon memory and atmosphere. The tape can be cut at any point. It can be pasted together. Other persons' words can be interpolated. The final product may be nothing at all like what was said.

In more primitive days of radio and television, trickiness was very difficult. It was when tape came into the business that much that you hear is a transcription, a previously-taken, previously-rehearsed performance.

Sometimes, this is a great improvement on the live show because it gives the director an opportunity to cut his copy to size and taste, to use the best of the material, etc. Sometimes, it is used to perpetrate a fraud on the public.

Most of the advertisements that you see time after time, repeated ad nauseam, sung to strains in horrible discords to attract increasing attention, are usually done in advance and are pushed into spots. They spoil the show. The general rule is that commercial time should not be more than three minutes in 15. Whenever it is more than that the viewer is being abused.

However, our public has become so accustomed to the combined comedian-pitchman on television, that it often accepts any abuse.

The pitchman used to be a separate person altogether, but now not only comedians but even cowboys end a show by doing a job for the sponsor. The dead rise to plug a cigarette; the out-of-breath hero plaudibly plugs an automobile.

Do you really care what paste an actor uses on his hair? Or how his toupee stays stuck on? Does it really make any difference?

It is interesting that Norman Cousins has only just discovered the things that can happen with tape. It goes on all the time.

From Realm Of Stamps

By Ray Patton

The United States will issue four-cent Olympic Games from Olympic Valley, Calif. on Feb. 18.

The United Nations, on Feb. 29, will issue the first of their 1960 stamps, four and eight cent value, showing the Palais de Chaillot, Paris, France. I wonder if anyone collects only the stamps issued on Feb. 29 and how many have been issued on this "extra day" of the year.

This will be the third stamp in the series depicting sites of the U.N. General Assembly. The plenary meetings of the first part of the third session, 1948, and the sixth session, 1951, were held in the Palais de Chaillot.

The four-cent stamp will be printed in blue with red border and the eight-cent issue will be brown with a green border. The stamps were designed by H. Woty-Wimmer of Messrs.

Thomas de la Rue and Co. Ltd. of London who will also print them by steel engraving.

Printing quantities of the U.N. issues have been reduced to 3,000,000 of the four cent and 2,750,000 of the eight cent.

Word has been received that collectors who have sent covers for the ten-cent air mail commemorative for the International American States Conference, scheduled for release Feb. 1 will be held by the postmaster at Washington until the new date has been set.

Canada does not plan to issue any new stamps until May 1960; however, their program is, like ours, subject to change. Stamp Club News — At the last meeting of the Stamp Club 18 lots of stamps were auctioned off and sold. Dave Miller made a large bulletin board and this will be used to hang sheets of stamps for auction or sale.

If you are a collector, drop in at any of the meetings and have fun with us at our auctions. Next meeting will be Wednesday, Feb. 17 at 36 Club Court, Stroudsburg.

Off The Record

By Robert Clark, City Editor

If you happen to see genial Jim Gaffney handing out cards with the printing, "Have Gun, Will Travel," don't be alarmed.

Jim, a former reporter for the Daily Record via Bangor, isn't looking for any trouble with these cards. It is just that he is showing the folks that he is a good friend of Richard Boone, the gent who portrays the role of Paladin in the TV series "Have Gun Will Travel."

Gaffney, now a scribe for the Bethlehem Globe-Times, is a long-time buddy of Boone. The friendship started when both were servicemen.

After War II, Boone went his theatrical way and Gaffney toward the newspaper field. However, the friendship didn't stop as "Gaff" many times takes time out to visit Boone and visa versa on Dick's part.

Boone has had two top roles on television, one was his Medie series which is still carried on many channels and, of course, his swashbuckling Paladin role on CBS.

So if you happen to glimpse Gaffney flashing a message with a Paladin calling card don't be afraid. It is only a memento reminding Jim of his pal Boone.

Interpreting The News

Nikita's Trip May Bare Red Split

By J. M. Roberts
(AP News Analyst)

Western students of Communist tactics, much interested these days in relations between Moscow and Peking, may get some clues on that point from Soviet Premier Nikita Khrushchev's visit to India, Burma and Indonesia beginning this week.

For a long time, Red China seemed to ignore — at times seemed to actively counteract — Khrushchev's 1959 peace offensive. Peking's aggression against Tibet and India, and her quarrel with Indonesia over the rights of dual-citizenship Chinese there, ignored the general "peace-loving" Communist line.

More recently, the Chinese Reds have issued some statements promising peaceful settlements, even with regard to Formosa.

They made a border deal with Burma, but it was one which gave them much of what they wanted and only gave away what they didn't want.

But the question remains, how meaningful is the apparently jealous competition to see whether Soviet Communism shall be paramount in Asia?

Is Khrushchev seeking to take advantage of Peking's loss of prestige in Asia because of her aggressive attitude during the past two years?

Or is he trying to offset it for the benefit of Communism in general?

Or is it merely collaboration in the old Communist tactic of applying threats and physical pressure, then cooling things off by protestations of peaceful intent?

There are many other factors which will go into ultimate evaluation of the Khrushchev visit.

Since he last went to India there has been a gradual American turn, highlighted by the Eisenhower visit, toward acceptance of neutrality provided it is really neutral, and to meet the Soviet economic aid program on its own ground. American aid to India is to be vastly increased. Khrushchev will have to do something about it.

Burma recently accepted American aid for the first time.

Aid to Indonesia has been renewed, and the atmosphere surrounding American relations there has improved entirely aside from the conflict with Red China.

Khrushchev is conducting a great campaign for loyalty and discipline within the ranks of Soviet and European communism. It is not out of character for him to extend this campaign even into areas which the Chinese Reds consider their own primary concern.

The Soviet regime is frequently depicted as wary of the growing strength of Red China.

Is fear, then, going to produce competition between the two Communist partners, as well as between them both and the United States?

Reports From Congress

Sugar Hits Sour Note

By Congressional Quarterly
Washington — American resentment over Premier Castro's machinations in Cuba is tossing a monkey wrench into plans to extend the present Sugar Act beyond its expiration date in December.

A three-cornered controversy could shape up in Congress unless the Administration can reconcile divergent views before it presents its own Sugar Act proposals to Congress. The Administration's plan was reportedly being readied for presentation within a week or two.

The Sugar Act sets the all-embracing quota system for sugar consumed in the United States, and regulates the amount produced domestically and imported from abroad.

Demand Retaliation — Some Congressmen demand a sharp cut in Cuba's quota allotment — one-third of U.S. consumption — as retaliation for Premier Castro's confiscation of the plan was reportedly being readied for presentation within a week or two.

The Sugar Act sets the all-embracing quota system for sugar consumed in the United States, and regulates the amount produced domestically and imported from abroad.

Demand Retaliation — Some Congressmen demand a sharp cut in Cuba's quota allotment — one-third of U.S. consumption — as retaliation for Premier Castro's confiscation of American-owned sugar lands.

Others say this would smack of "dollar diplomacy" and turn Castro into a martyr. Instead, they suggest giving President Eisenhower special authority to cut Cuba's quota in an emergency situation.

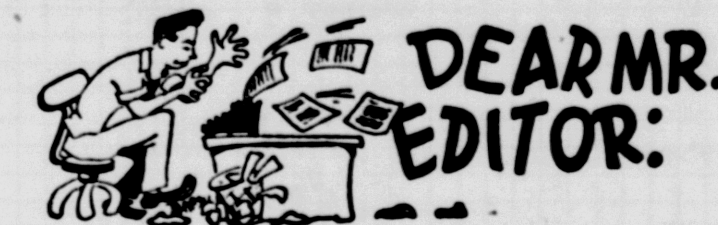

They feel this alone would have an important deterrent effect on Castro, even if it never had to be used. Recent Administration thinking has reportedly supported this line of action.

No "Sugar Czar" — However, Rep. Harold D. Cooley (D-N.C.), chairman of the House Agriculture Committee, says that he had "no intention of surrendering to the Executive Branch the responsibility and authority of the Congress." Nor, he said, "do I intend to create a sugar king or sugar czar in any Executive Department."

Earlier, Cooley warned that he had no desire to open up the general quota section of the act, as this would bring a lot of amendments from the floor and lead to campaigns from other countries for a bigger quota slice.

Cooley said he favored a short, simple extension of the present act, "to provide a probationary period within which stability might be reestablished in the Cuban government."

Whether Cooley and the Administration can get together on a bill is the big question now. If they can work out a mutually agreeable plan, Congressional acceptance is much more likely.

Wants Crossing Kept Open

Mr. John F. Hill, Editor
The Daily Record

Dear Mr. Hill: I would appreciate it if you would print this letter.

On Jan. 15, your paper carried an AP news dispatch relative to again closing Gravel Place Crossing. Many of us do not want this to happen and all those using the crossing should unite in a common effort to keep it open for ourselves and succeeding generations.

Gravel Place Crossing was officially closed in 1945 by a Public Utility Commission order. It was opened on an emergency basis following the flood.

Through the intervention of the local Chamber of Commerce, the PUC has called a hearing before permitting the D. L. & W. R. R. to close the crossing again. This hearing is to be held at the Court House at 10 a.m. Thursday, Feb. 18.

The whole area has grown considerably since 1945. The majority of the houses in the Fifth St. area have been erected in the last 15 years.

Trumatic Machine & Tool Co., Kulp Foundry, and Dracett, Inc. have been added. Many new homes have been built in the Monroe Hills section and in the Milford Road area.

Birth Acres and Lake Valhalla developments are of recent vintage and many additional new homes are spotted throughout the area. Most of the people in the area mentioned use Gravel Crossing frequently and some use it daily.

If the crossing is again closed, this traffic must, of necessity, go through East Stroudsburg, further congesting an already congested town.

Yours for Progress,

A wealthy lady, very avant garde, had her portrait painted by an abstractionist. "It's the best thing I've ever done," he said modestly when he delivered the finished portrait, "although I'm not too pleased with the way your nose turned out." Why don't you change it," asked the lady. "Frankly," admitted the abstractionist, "I can't find it."

Dear Abby

There's A Sucker Born...

Dear Abby: I met a girl who led me to believe that she would be all mine if I bought her what she wanted. She made out a list of the things she wanted and I bought them for her. It set me back over $400. All this time she wouldn't even let me hold her hand.

Now she tells me that she is a "nice" girl and I should get lost because I am too fast for her. She's already worn the clothes I bought for her. What do I do now? Four hundred bucks is not hay. DELL

Dear Dell: Tough luck. If the four hundred bucks WERE hay you'd have had enough to eat all winter.

Dear Abby: We have an old maid sister who lives alone. She has so many cats and kittens we have never been able to count them. (None of them are housebroken.)

Hi-Fi Way Of Pictures

STAMFORD, Conn. (AP) — A high-fidelity television that can ride a rocket and flash pictures of the planets back to earth was described yesterday by CBS Laboratories.

The first of the superaccurate picture systems has been delivered to the U.S. government, but spokesmen refused to denote which federal agency.

However, one use of the system will be in unmanned reconnaissance aircraft taking pictures of enemy territory in a limited war, explained Dr. Peter C. Goldmark, president of the Columbia Broadcasting System research arm.

The sharpest of the television pictures today is made up of some 300,000 tiny bits of black or white, he said. The CBS system is capable of 150 million of these tiny picture elements.

Spokesmen agreed the picture system could be used to photograph the moon or planets from a rocket and broadcast the pictures back to earth.

But they refused to say whether their work was to be used in this manner on grounds that further information was classified.

Meanwhile, the Central American republic, ceased to be a colony of Spain in 1821.

My sister says it's her home and her business. The problem is she used to give piano lessons but all her pupils have left her. Then she started going in their homes, but her clothes smelled so bad, they all quit her. Now she has no income. I begged her to give away her cats and come to live with me, but she accuses me of wanting a free babysitter. (My children are all grown.) When I bring her food she gives it to the cats. I'm afraid she'll starve herself. What can I do?

CONCERNED SISTER

Dear Sister: Your sister may indeed need a mental examination. When a person is incompetent to make decisions, he is told what to do — not asked. I urge you to get your sister to a doctor.

Dear Abby: I have something to say to that lady who signed herself FROM TEXAS. She said her husband leaves pennies on the hotel dresser instead of throwing them in the waste-paper basket. As she put it, "They weigh down his pockets and tear the linings." If this man will just look in the hotel lobby, he will find a little container with a slot where pennies can be dropped. He can help fight polio, cancer, heart, disease, muscular dystrophy and one of dozens of other ailments. I'm sure his pennies would do more good there than in the waste-paper basket or on a hotel dresser.

FROM FLORIDA

Dear Abby: I am 14 and do quite a lot of babysitting. A certain couple I sit for go out and tell me they will call from where they are to see how things are. They never call me. They never leave any number where I can call them in case of an emergency, either.

Shouldn't I have a number before they leave? If they don't, am I within my rights to refuse to sit for them?

CONCERNED SITTER

"What's your problem?" For a personal reply, write to Abby in care of this paper and enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Queen Victoria's luxurious private railway cars, built in 1869, were given gas lighting. But, the Queen ordered oil lamps and candles to replace the gas jets.

Monroe County Has A Chance For A Needed Industry

IN THE next 14 days and on April 26, Monroe County voters will have a chance to create a new industry for the Poconos.

An industry that will drastically reduce the unemployment situation that saw 1,186 county residents file for unemployment compensation during the week ending Feb. 4.

An industry that will mean better schools and roads through taxes on the industry.

An industry that will bring more revenue to local merchants, hotels, motels and resorts.

Area Group Can Provide Everything But Signatures

Racing Inc. of Scranton is making a bid to put a harness racing track in Monroe County. A ready-made industry that will begin paying dividends to the state and county before the first race is run.

And all that the group asks is that voters give them the right to open the track.

Racing Inc. does not ask for amortization or that the county help finance the track. Many industries, which provide far less dividends than a race track, require these concessions.

What the group does want is a signature and a "yes" vote.

Petition Will Be Circulated Shortly

Petitions will soon be circulated through the county asking that the question of having a harness racing track in Monroe County be put on the April 26 primary ballot.

If the required number of signatures are obtained the battle is less than half over. A majority of voters must vote to have the track when the primary rolls around.

There is still some question as to how many tracks can operate in the state. The current opinion is that four tracks can open their doors.

Philadelphia and Pittsburgh are launching an all-out fight for tracks and the smart money is backing these two locations. It is conceivable that at least a dozen counties will favor the tracks in the referendum.

Areas That Balk May Be On Outside

Since only four tracks may be able to operate the Racing Commission will have to devise a formula for allocating the operations. It certainly will not back a track in an area that passed the voting test by the barest of margins.

The counties that get the tracks will be the ones that look upon racing as a needed industry not as an immoral evil or a political football.

Monroe County must decide quickly which way it will turn. Only 14 days remain to prepare the petitions.

The petitions must be in the State Harness Racing Commission's office on Feb. 23.

A Late Star For A Free Industry

Monroe County is getting a late start in the race for a track. It can not afford to waste any more time. What is being done should have been started the day after the horse racing bill was signed.

It is a rare opportunity that a community gets a chance to vote itself a million dollar industry without spending a dime.

Monroe County is being given that chance. The only question now is "are we too late?"

Ask Petition Help

Seranton Group Seeks Race Track In Monroe

RACING INCORPORATED, Seranton group is seeking to operate a harness racing track in Monroe County.

Martin Memolo, director of Racing Inc. met with leaders of the Pocono Mountain Vacation Bureau and area chambers of commerce at the Penn Stroud yesterday to seek help in circulating a petition asking that a referendum on harness racing be put on the April primary ballot.

Mountie Gals Win Eighth Game, 53-30

SANDY RADLER scored 31 points to lead the Stroud Union High Mounties to a 53-30 win over Pen Argyl yesterday.

Vellita Tutson added 11 and Sue Harl eight points to the attack.

The locals never trailed as they picked up their seventh win of the season against one loss.

L. DeNicola posted 16 for the losers who managed only 11 points in the first half.

The petition only means that the question of harness racing in Monroe County will be put on the ballot. The yes or no decision would be decided through the primary.

Meeting with Memolo were Paul Assure of the Top of the Poconos Assn.; Eric Schuchard, Pocono Mountains Vacation Bureau; Leroy Mikels, Pocono Mountain Chamber of Commerce; Charles Bensinger, attorney for the Pocono Mountain Chamber of Commerce, and John Crandall, board member of the Chamber of Commerce.

Racing Inc. has been in existence for several years. It was formed to build a sports car racing track in the Poconos. Several area people are directors of the organization.

No Site Picked
Memolo told the group that no site has been selected for the track and that a site would not be chosen for quite a while.

He also said that other Seranton groups hope to build a track in the Luzerne-Lackawanna County area.

Another meeting is planned tonight to ask several other groups to carry the petitions throughout the county.

Wilson Defeats Cavaliers

EAST Stroudsburg High plunged further into the Lehigh-Northampton cellar by dropping a 76-51 decision to Wilson Boro at Eastburg last night.

John Telepo, who leads the loop in scoring, poured in 13 field goals and four foul shots for 30 points to lead all scorers.

The Cavaliers, who failed to put a man over the 10-point mark, got nine point performances from Bill Hillman and John Hindman.

Wilson On Top
The loss gives Eastburg a 1-5 second half record in the loop, while Wilson, on top of the pack is 3-0.

The losers managed to stay in the game for a period and only trailed 21-17 at the eight minute mark.

But Wilson hit for 32 points in the next two periods while the locals only hit 17 points.

Pour On Fouls
The Cavaliers had a miserable night from the foul line, hitting only three of 11 chances.

Roland Gartner and Jack Kane had eight each for the losers, who have lost 11 of their last 12 ball games.

Tri Gets 67

Catty Smacks Stroud Union Five By 38

LEAGUE leading Cata-sauqua roared to a 15-2 first period lead, as it downed Stroud Union 84-46 at Catty last night.

The Mountaineers were never in the game and only Mike McMahon and Todd Williams managed double figures.

McMahon hit 12 points and Williams, 10, his lowest output of the season.

Tri Hot
John Yanek, Rich (Tiny) Saylor and Pee Wee Martz scored 67 points in the rout. Yanek and Martz bagged 23 each. Saylor, the number two scorer in the league added 21.

Catsauqua in winning its 20th straight game without a loss, never let up on the outclassed and slower Mounties. The Rough Riders bagged 20 points in the second frame, 24 in the first and 25 in the finale.

The loss was the first of the second half for Bob Wert's club, which has disposed of Emmaus and Lehigh in fairly easy style.

Second Win
In the first half meeting of the two clubs at Stroudsburg, Catty swamped the locals, 89-62.

Every member of the Catty club that played got at least two points, while the losers got production from only six players.

It was the third time of campaign that the West Main Streeters have been checked below 50 points. Dieruff did in the opener, taking a 47-44 decision and Lehigh won a 51-49 nod.

Loeffler Checked
The Riders more than doubled Stroud Union's field goal production, hitting 35 two-pointers, while the locals managed only 17.

Roy Loeffler, who had been going over the 15 point mark in his last several outings was held to nine points, while John Martin had eight.

Duff To Miss First GOP Convention In 28 Years

By John Koenig Jr.
WASHINGTON (AP)—Former Sen. James H. Duff (R-Pa.) said Tuesday he has no desire nor expectation of being a Pennsylvania delegate to the Republican National Convention.

He said it would be the party's first national convention he has missed in 28 years. But he said that with the "Grundy group in control" of the GOP State Committee he has no chance of being selected.

The state committee meets in Harrisburg Friday to name 10 delegates-at-large and 10 alternates-at-large. Sixty delegates—two from each congressional district—will be elected in the April 26 primary.

Duff also said in an interview that he would support whomever the national convention nominates for president, adding:

Has No Doubt

"I have no doubt it will be Vice President Nixon."

Duff's differences with what he calls the Grundy organization go back to his days as governor in 1947-51. Joseph R. Grundy, founder of the Pennsylvania Manufacturers Assn., was for many years a powerful figure in Republican politics in Pennsylvania. He also served in the U.S. Senate.

Duff said that regardless of whether Grundy—now in his mid-90s and spending a large part of his time in the Bahamas—is around, it's "still the same setup that operated when he was there."

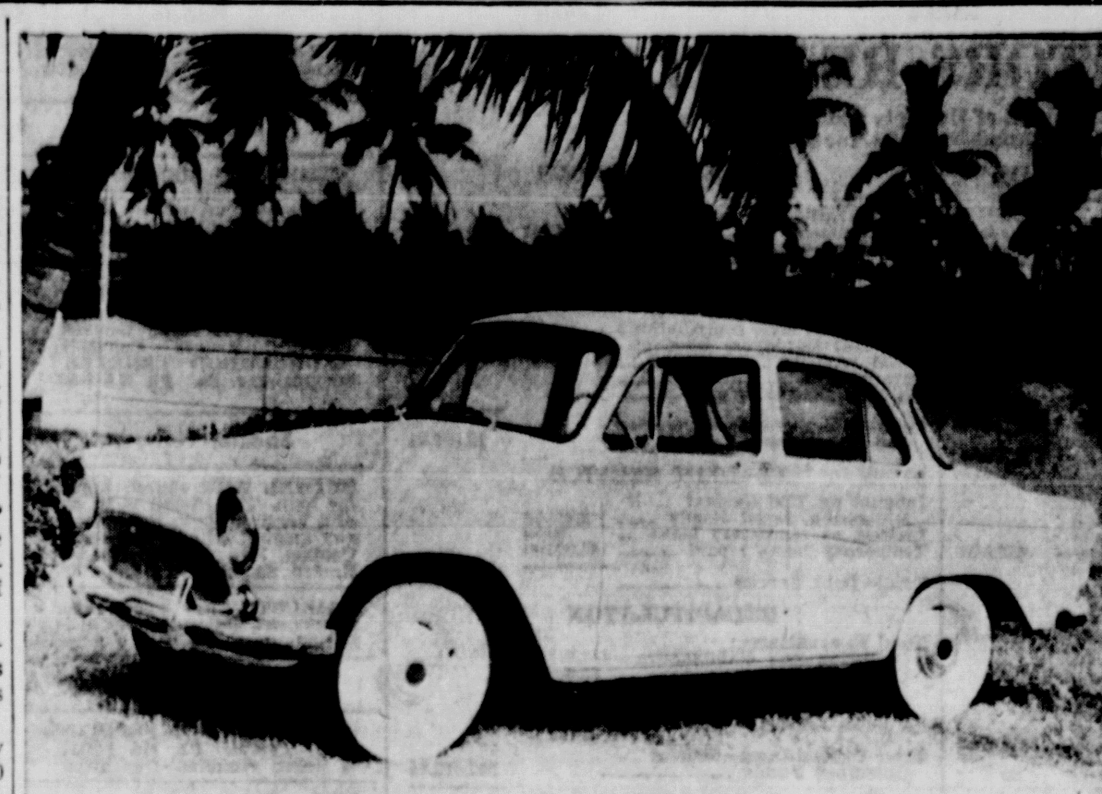

Delegates-at-large to the GOP convention are named by the state committee "instead of giving individuals a chance to run," Duff said.

"And the organization that controls the state committee controls the selection," he added. "That is still the Grundy group."

Duff now lives at his country home in Hollywood, Md., about 50 miles from Washington. He maintains his voting residence in Carnegie, Pa.

VFW Hears Country In Danger

WASHINGTON (AP)—Rep. Carl Vinson (D-Ga.) said Tuesday night the country is in danger because of what he described as skimping on defense spending.

Vinson, dean of congressional military specialists, spoke out in a talk prepared for the presentation to him of the Veterans of Foreign Wars' Distinguished Citizenship Award.

Vinson has been chairman of the House Armed Services Committee since 1947, except for four years of Republican control of Congress. Earlier, he headed the old Naval Affairs Committee for 15 years.

Vinson criticized especially presidential withholding of funds voted to the armed services by Congress. He said this has occurred under both President Eisenhower and former President Harry S. Truman.

Also honored by the VFW—with its distinguished service medal—was Kenneth D. Wells of Wayne, Pa., president of the Freedoms Foundation at Valley Forge, Pa. The VFW national commander, Louis G. Feldman of Hazleton, Pa., praised Wells for the foundation "for their outstanding contributions in making Loyalty Day observances a success throughout the nation."

Vinson said Congress should "insist upon exercising its constitutional rights" by drafting legislation that will force the maintenance of manpower floors and other levels of defense activity.

"For the last decade we have measured our military requirements in dollars and not in missiles, rockets, submarines, armor, planes and men," Vinson said.

Charge Ill-Treatment

DURBAN, South Africa (AP)—Sixty Africans, charged with the murder of nine policemen during riots on Jan. 24 at Cato Manor, a suburb, charged in court yesterday that they had been ill-treated in jail. The magistrate said their complaints would be passed on to appropriate authorities. The 60 were held for another hearing.

Dutch Sailor Faces Trial In Ship Slaying Of Woman

BOSTON (AP)—A handsome Dutch radio operator goes on trial Wednesday on a charge of murder in what the state contends was the romance-ending shipboard slaying of a pretty Chicago heiress and divorcee.

One hundred American men and women have been summoned as prospective jurors.

A panel of 12 and two alternates will be selected to determine whether Willem van Rie, 31, should go to the electric chair or be freed.

Van Rie was indicted on a charge of first degree murder in the killing of Lynn Kauffman, 23, with whom he allegedly engaged in a torrid 44-day romance from Singapore to Boston.

Body Battered Her body, extensively battered and half nude, was found stranded on Spectacle Island, in Boston Harbor, last Sept. 19, the day after the Dutch freighter Utrecht departed from Boston on an around-the-world voyage.

Van Rie has denied that an affair with the pretty heiress-divorcee ended in violence.

His wife, Nella, who came on from Holland to be with him, has remained steadfast in belief in his innocence.

Lynn had been employed three years by Prof. Stanley Spector, Asiatic researcher of Washington University, St. Louis, Mo. She had resided at the Sectors' home and boarded the Utrecht at Singapore with the professor's wife, Juanita, and the couple's three children.

She was the daughter of a wealthy Chicago industrialist. She had been married, and divorced three years ago from a St. Louis lawyer.

Calls New Tax Form Popular

A POPULAR new tax form. That is the description of the new income tax return, Form 1040W, given by R. P. Brownell, District Director of Internal Revenue.

He said that many taxpayers, whose 1959 income consisted of salary, wages, and similar compensation, regardless of amount, and not more than $200 income from interest and dividends, are finding the stream-lined, 2-page form better suited to their tax situation than the regular Form 1040.

He said that the new form eliminates the extra two pages of schedules on Form 1040, but still allows the taxpayer the benefits of itemizing deductions, sick-pay exclusion, dividends received credit, estimated tax payment credit, and joint filing.

He urges all taxpayers who qualify, to use this new form when filing their 1959 income tax returns.

He said copies of Form 1040W are available at their local Internal Revenue Service office.

Boy, 13, Accused Of Firing Rifle

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—A 13-year-old boy has been accused of hitting pedestrians and store windows with air rifle pellets from the roof of his North Philadelphia home.

James Richardson was arrested yesterday. Police said they found him on the roof after pinpointing the direction from which the pellets were fired.

The peppering started Friday. No serious injuries were reported. Richardson was held at the Youth Study Center.

Amish Stop Children From School

MORGANTOWN, Pa. (AP)—Some members of the austere Amish sect, proclaiming their faith is older than their government, refuse to send their children to a new two-million dollar school.

The parents say they consider the spacious Twin Valley Junior-Senior High School too worldly for their young.

The school is 10 miles from the Amish homes or "over the mountain" as these plain people of the Pennsylvania Dutch country put it.

"We wish a good economic training for our posterity and we aim to make good citizens, self-supporting farmers and Christians of our children," wrote an Amish spokesman.

Aaron E. Beiler, replying to a school board ultimatum to get the children in school of else, asserted:

"Our religious convictions direct us to stay away from secondary high school attendance. Examples and experience are the best teachers. Shall we ask: 'Why should we be disturbed and molested?'"

The dispute has been going on since the school year began in September. Monday night the school board here voted to give parents three days' notice before starting action under the state's compulsory school attendance law. Eighteen pupils from nine families are involved in the matter.

Beiler requested that Amish children be allowed to attend a farmhouse school or similar school which existed before construction of the new joint junior-senior high.

News Advertising Sets New Mark

PHILADELPHIA (AP)—News-paper advertising set a new record in 1959, Charles T. Lipscomb, Jr., president of the bureau of advertising of the American Newspaper Publishers Assn., said Tuesday.

Lipscomb told a luncheon group that advertising totaled $3,517,000, a gain of 10 per cent over 1958.

He asserted that newspapers' share of total advertising also increased, from 31 per cent in 1958, to 31.7 per cent last year. Total advertising for all media was more than 11 billion dollars last year.

Lipscomb said newspapers have intensively promoted ethical advertising adding that "in 1958, a survey of 219 papers showed they turned down almost nine million dollars of advertising that was not up to standard."

Berliners Annoyed

BERLIN (AP)—West Berliners are annoyed because the city's next telephone book is going to eliminate first names and use only an initial as an economy measure.

Telephone users figure it's going to take a lot of time to go through three or four columns of such names as "Mueller W." trying to find the right one.

COVERING the WORLD

YOUR NEWSPAPER

... has the world covered 24 hours a day. No matter what happens or where, your newspaper is on-the-spot observer, relaying the news to you completely, accurately and in the vernacular of the average man. Each issue brings the world a little closer, makes it smaller, more understandable. Hence, you become more compassionate, more understanding of the world, its peoples and its problems.

National BEAUTY SALON WEEK

— February 7 to 13 —

Well Groomed Women Everywhere Depend On Regular Professional Beauty Care...

During the week of February 7 - 13, National Beauty Salon Week, we recognize that today's permanent wave is the result of a tremendous amount of careful laboratory research. Added to this study is an extensive collaboration with the professional hairdresser whose years of training and experience create permanent waving individually prescribed to suit the needs of every woman's hair.

Individual prescription in permanent waving is extremely important, since we all have different hair characteristics. The hair of some of us is very fine, some not so fine, some damaged or healthy, or overly porous. Each requires individual attention.

Contrary to most beliefs, professional permanent waves are not designed simply to put a curl into your hair. It is far more important that your permanent give and maintain the shape of the coiffure that is specifically becoming to your features and their proportions, and that it will make your hair manageable and easy to care for in between hairdressing appointments.

Of equal importance today is the fact that the modern professional permanent wave also conditions your hair during the process, so that it is actually possible for hair to emerge from a permanent wave in better health than it was before.
